Functionality

Your home's interior design and functioning must work together. You have to live here constantly, thus nothing should be difficult to use or reach. Functionality of the regions is closely correlated with space use. Consider carefully where you may place your cabinets, wardrobe or other storage without detracting from the artistry of the interiors.

Space

Utilizing space effectively is important while building your home's interior. Reduced floor area is a result of features such as sliding-door built-in wardrobes, built-in cabinets, modular kitchens, multiple bathroom shelves, linen closets, libraries, etc.

It's usually a good idea to plan your ideal home with adequate space for future extensions and additional décor.

Layout

Keep the floor plan in consideration while choosing or changing your home's decor. If you have kids, you might like the bedrooms to be close to one another. Lofts, connected bathrooms, a separate entry for the guest bathroom, the privacy of the bedrooms and easy access to drying facilities are all taken into account in the design.

Furniture & Decor

The furniture in each area is what unifies the space and makes it livable. This is valid for the entire 3bhk interior design. Wooden furniture is a terrific method to add an earthy and traditional appearance to your home interior. Modern and classic furniture can help you to create a cozy and comfortable atmosphere. But apart from that foldable furniture is now gaining popularity. You may fold it up to save room space after use, additionally, it gives an aesthetic look, which is perfect for your guest or study room.

The decorative items, paintings, and family photo frames add memories and give sophisticated looks and positive vibes to the house. Plants and other greenery are the best options for your home decor. You may choose both indoor and outdoor plants and flowers, providing the space with a sense of freshness and natural beauty.

Colour & Shades

The paint is a crucial part of any room's aesthetics and looks and significantly affects the overall appearance. Use bright colours to create the impression of more space, and deeper colours to warm up a space and seem cosier. The overall appearance may be changed with printed wall sheets, 1:3 contrasting hues, and textured walls. Even the fixtures, decoration and furnishings in the space should either contrast with or go with the wall colour.

Conclusion

Your home's interior design would be ideal if it combined lavishness, maximum comfort, optimal utility, and a calming warmth.
